

Dear students,

I would like to notify you of my intention to start an OMILOS this school year. I have thought of the topic carefully and I have decided to focus on writing. To be more specific, I am thinking of:

a) proficiency and academic writing – which is an essential skill that most of you will need in your future career, therefore I would like to introduce to you the basics of this specific type of writing.

b) Preparation for the writing task of the Pan-Hellenic exams, which might interest some of you

c) creative writing, which I know from the writing tasks I assigned last year, a lot of students find particularly appealing!

The methodology that I am planning on applying includes a variety of activities that involve interaction of the team members, response to visual prompts, debates on topics that are often present in exams, an introduction to the work of contemporary writers and insight into their craft, writing activities that will for the most part be completed during class sessions.

My proposed day is Thursday and time: 2:15 – 3:45.

Hope to see you in class!
